Sinclair posts property bond; suspended from Boy Scouts

A judge Thursday arraigned Ketchikan Boy Scout leader Duane Sinclair in a sexual abuse case involving a 10-year-old boy. Sinclair, 45, was to be released on $50,000 bail using a property bond as collateral. His release was pending notarization of the bond Thursday afternoon.

He did not enter a plea Thursday before Judge George Gucker. A preliminary hearing has been set for 3 p.m. March 29.

Sinclair, who has been active in Ketchikan's Boy Scout program for many years, has been accused of engaging in sexual penetration and sexual contact with the boy, according to a criminal complaint filed by police in Ketchikan Superior Court.

Police arrested and charged him Wednesday with two counts of sexual abuse of a minor.

Three people claim to have witnessed the acts in Sinclair's truck in a 800 block of Water Street on the evening of March 3.

Sinclair was scoutmaster for Troop No. 14, said John Rooney, council executive for the Southeast Alaska Area Council in Juneau. Rooney came to Ketchikan Thursday in connection with the case and said Sinclair's registration with the Boy Scouts has been suspended.

"We understand that criminal charges have been brought against him and the matter is in the hands of the authorities," Rooney said Thursday. "Under the circumstances, any comment on the case by the council at this time would be inappropriate."

If convicted, Sinclair would face a maximum sentence of 30 years in jail and up to a $75,000 fine for the first-degree sexual abuse charge. The second count, second-degree sexual abuse, carries a maximum sentence of 10 years in jail and up to a $50,000 fine.

This is the second time Sinclair has been charged in a case related

Judy Arteaga librarian of year

Judy Arteaga, librarian at Schoenbar Junior High School, was chosen 1988 School Librarian of the Year by the Alaska Association of School Librarians.

The award came as a surprise to Arteaga at the library association's conference Sunday in Fairbanks.

"I'm very, very grateful to the staff for nominating me," Arteaga said. She emphasized that it's the Schoenbar staff that makes her work possible.

"I work with absolutely the greatest staff," she said. Arteaga has been Schoenbar's librarian for eight years and librarian at Valley Park Elementary School prior to that. She received her master's degree in school librarianship from the University of Oregon in 1976.

Arteaga worked as a library aide at Mann School when she first moved to Ketchikan some 20 years ago. Her interest piqued, she took time off to pursue a bachelor's degree and later her master's.

Arteaga is commended for her work to put Ketchikan school libraries on the Western Library Network. Arteaga requested a grant for $17,000 to begin the program.

The grant paid for an aide to input titles of books available in the district. Schools will be linked by computer, so each school can find out what is available in the other schools. The public library is also linked to the program.

Arranging for authors to visit the schools is another project Arteaga has taken on. Author Bruce Brooks arrives in town Monday, courtesy of Arteaga. Funds for his visit come from magazine sales, a book fair, and left-over money from the previous year's fund-raiser.

Arteaga feels the author visits help promote reading and we visits "really have a last she said.

She also organizes the E Books competition at Schoenbar. Arteaga is chairwoman Governor's Advisory Committee, a coordinating academic, public and school library in the state and for 20 years. They have a son, Christopher.

Sinclair sentence includes restitution

By JERILESSARD
Daily News Staff Writer

Duane J. Sinclair has been sentenced to 15 years in prison, 6 years, 7 months suspended, on six counts of sexual abuse of a minor. He also has been ordered to pay restitution to the 11-year-old victim and his family for an amount tentatively set at $346,900.

The sentence was pronounced Monday afternoon by Judge Thomas Schulz in a crowded Ketchikan Superior Court. Sinclair, formerly a Boy Scout leader and employed at Ketchikan Job Service, earlier pleaded no contest to all six counts.

Schulz went along with a plea agreement reached between attorneys, which he deemed "reasonable." The restitution figure is dependent upon a more detailed report of Sinclair's assets, which Woodell is expected to submit to the judge Thursday. Attorney Mark Ellis said a post-traumatic stress syndrome and revised restitution figure, if any, would only come back to court if there are objections. He noted the state made it clear in its agreement with the defendant that restitution of at least $200,000 would be sought.

Among other expenses, the restitution will cover the costs already incurred by the family - relocating to California, loss of income and hospitalization for the child, for example. The boy recently spent two months undergoing intensive therapy and diagnosis as a patient in a California hospital. Restitution in such cases is based on actual losses, Ellis said.

In addition, the victim's mother told the court that professionals recommend an additional 10 years of therapy for both her and the boy. Ellis noted three years of that therapy is considered mandatory. The victim's mother said he has been diagnosed as suffering from post-traumatic stress syndrome and in an educational setting, would be classified as emotionally disabled. He has exhibited suicidal tendencies.

"The things that Duane did make me feel real angry," the boy himself said to the judge. "I was extremely frightened." He referred to threats which the defendant made in order to ensure the victim's silence.

The victim's mother said she once encountered hostility from her son which was encouraged by Sinclair. It was the two of them against "the mean mom," she said.

After the inpatient therapy, the boy said he felt "freer, stronger and happier."

His mother said she wanted to see the victim restored to a normal life. She described Sinclair as "hopelessly sick," but said punishment or revenge is not her goal. Perhaps if Sinclair had undergone therapy when he was 11 years old, she said, "we wouldn't be in court today." Seated by his attorney Will Woodell, Sinclair revealed little emotion during comments to the court by both the victim and his mother. Woodell waived cross-examination of the boy but made it clear that the defendant and his counsel did not thereby agree to what the victim or his mother said.

The grand jury indictment which led to Sinclair's sentence includes four counts of first-degree sexual abuse of a minor and two counts of second-degree sexual abuse of a minor.

The indictment charges that Sinclair, 46, engaged in sexual activities with the victim on various occasions from winter 1987 through March 3 of this year.

The maximum sentence for first-degree sexual abuse is 30 years in jail and up to a $75,000 fine. For second-degree sexual abuse, the maximum sentence is 10 years and up to a $50,000 fine.

Sinclair changes plea to no contest

Duane J. Sinclair has changed his plea on six counts of sexual abuse of a minor to no contest. Previously pleading innocence, he entered the new plea on Monday afternoon before Judge Thomas Schultz in Ketchikan Superior Court.

District Attorney Mark Ellis told the judge that a plea agreement between the state and Sinclair's attorney Will Woodell calls for a total sentence of 15 years, with 6 years and 7 months suspended. Sinclair therefore would serve 8 years and 5 months for all counts.

The agreement also calls for a five-year probation after Sinclair's release, with a treatment program for sexual offenders required as a condition of probation.

Sinclair told the judge he agreed with the terms of this agreement.

Ellis said the state also will seek restitution in excess of $200,000 for the victim and his family. Sinclair, a former Boy Scout leader, was indicted by a grand jury on four counts of first-degree sexual abuse and two counts of second-degree sexual abuse. Before the change of plea, Sinclair had pleaded innocent to all counts. A jury trial had been expected to be scheduled during Monday's court proceedings.

Schultz accepted the new plea. However, he said he will decide whether to accept the agreement after reviewing a pre-sentencing report. If he hands down a stiffer sentence, Sinclair will have an opportunity to change his plea.

A finding of guilty on such a felony typically requires immediate incarceration without bail. However, Schultz allowed a delay as requested in Ellis' report. Sinclair will begin time in jail on Nov. 25, and his sentencing is scheduled Dec. 16.

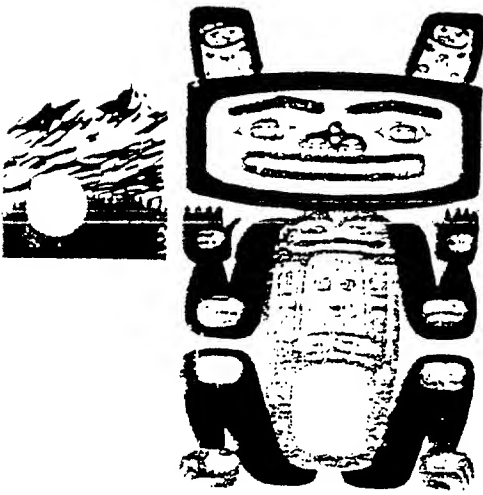

Ellis indicated the change of plea at this time was in consideration for the victim's need to begin therapy or counseling as soon as possible.

The maximum sentence for first-degree sexual abuse of a minor is 30 years in jail and up to a $75,000 fine. For second-degree sexual abuse, the maximum sentence is 10 years and a $50,000 fine.

Dear Paul:

Here is the latest on the Duane Sinclair case. Enclosed is a copy that appeared in the Ketchikan Daily News on October 4, 1988.

By now you should have quite a file on Duane Sinclair. We won't have to worry about him for about 8 years according to this article.

If he should ever get back into Scouting, I know of one Assistant Regional Director and myself that will resign.

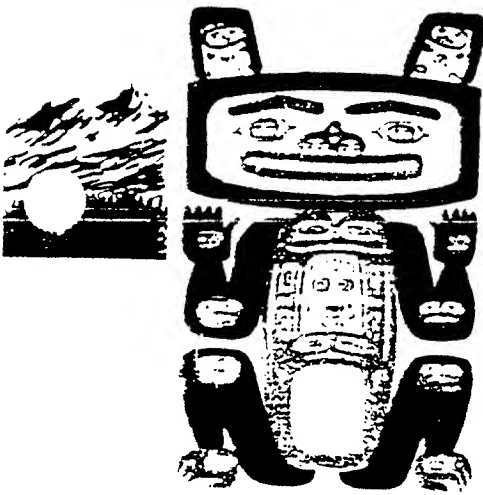

The boy is now in a hospital in California because of Duane Sinclair- this is a very serious case.

Thanks for your help.

Sincerely,

John M. Rooney

Sinclair indicted on six sex counts

Duane J. Sinclair of Ketchikan was indicted Sept. 9 by a Ketchikan grand jury on four counts of first-degree sexual abuse of a minor and two counts of second-degree sexual abuse of a minor. He is expected to be arraigned today in Ketchikan Superior Court at 1:15 p.m.

The charges allege that Sinclair, 46, engaged in sexual penetration or contact with a 10-year-old boy on six different occasions between just before Christmas 1987 and March 3 of this year.

The four first-degree counts stem from allegations that Sinclair placed his penis in the boy's mouth. The second-degree counts allege Sinclair touched the boy's penis.

Sinclair was arraigned in Ketchikan District Court on March 10 on two counts of sexual abuse but waived his right to a speedy trial.

Two witnesses reported to the Ketchikan Police Department that they observed sexual contact between Sinclair and the boy in Sinclair's pickup truck in the 800 block of Water Street on the evening of March 3.

The two original counts of sexual abuse stemmed from the March 3 incident. By the time of the indictment, the additional four counts were added as a result of the district attorney's investigation.

District Attorney Mark Ells said a third witness came forward in the subsequent investigation by his office.

Ells explained that Sinclair has a right to a jury trial within 120 days of his arraignment. The arraignment will be Sinclair's first opportunity to enter a plea. A jury trial is typically not scheduled until an omnibus hearing, which usually follows the arraignment.

Sinclair was released on a $50,000 property bond with several conditions, including a daily curfew.

"It's pretty much been wrapped up," Ells said of the investigation of Sinclair and the 10-year-old. However, he replied "no comment" when asked if his office was looking into similar situations involving Sinclair and other children.

Sinclair was formerly scoutmaster for Boy Scout Troop No. 14, but his registration with the Scouts was suspended. The 10-year-old was a member of the Boy Scouts. Sinclair is an employee in the Ketchikan Job Service office.

If convicted, first-degree sexual abuse of a minor brings a maximum sentence of 30 years in jail and up to a $75,000 fine. Second-degree sexual abuse carries a maximum sentence of 10 years and up to a $50,000 fine.

PERSONAL & CONFIDENTIAL

SUBJECT: Duane J. Sinclair

Dear John:

We appreciate the information which you recently sent us concerning the above-named individual. This is most helpful to us and will enable us to identify him should he attempt registration at any time.

We would like a copy of an application or other paper with Mr. Sinclair's signature. This will be most helpful in the identification process.

We would also like to have the outcome of the legal action as it is completed. Any sentencing will certainly help to give us a complete file.

Thank you again for your help in protecting the youth of America.

Sincerely,

Paul Ernst, Director

This complaint is based on the statement of [REDACTED] to Officer Jim Janke, Ketchikan Police Department, providing a description of the defendant and his pickup and license plate, [REDACTED], later found to be registered to the defendant, and Pacheco's statement that he observed the defendant in a red pickup truck parked in front of [REDACTED], with the defendant's head in the crotch of [REDACTED], further that upon going back to look, he saw [REDACTED] sucking on the defendant's penis, Pacheco further stated that he asked another unidentified man walking on the street to look in the window of the pickup to observe the defendant and [REDACTED], and upon Pacheco confronting the defendant, was told by the defendant that [REDACTED] was [REDACTED] and nothing had happened and asked Pacheco to wait because Pacheco was going to call the police.

This complaint is also based on the statement of Barbara Gurske to Officer Jim Janke, Ketchikan Police Department, that she observed the defendant with his head in the crotch of [REDACTED]

This complaint is also based on the statement of the defendant to Officer Dave Guzman, Ketchikan Police Department, that he was the person that officers were looking for and that he had given [REDACTED] a ride home and parked in front of [REDACTED]'s home for ten minutes; further on the statement of the defendant that a couple of people came by and accused him of having [REDACTED] molest the defendant.

This is also based on the statement of [REDACTED] to Officer Sue Pickrell, Ketchikan Police Department, that she observed the defendant at [REDACTED] at the same time that Mike A. Pacheco came to use her phone to call the police, that she observed the defendant's clothing to be disheveled, his face was red, his hair was messed up and his eyes kind of dazed, further on the statement of Ms. Ciarochi that Duane Sinclair told her in a phone conversation approximately one hour later, that he knew he had to be careful about being alone with boys but he didn't know how else he should talk to them about their homework and that the defendant was asking if the police were there asking questions.

ON 3-3-88,
This complaint is also based on the statement of [REDACTED] to Officer Sue Pickrell, Ketchikan Police Department that he was in the defendant's pickup truck parked in front of his house and that he had been crouched on the floor to avoid the defendant who was breathing on his face and leaning over him when Mike A. Pacheco knocked on the window accusing the defendant of molesting [REDACTED] but that nothing happened; further on the statement of [REDACTED] on 3-9-88 that the defendant made [REDACTED] touch the defendant's penis and put his penis against [REDACTED]'s face while he was crouched on the floor of the pickup, while the defendant was holding him with his hands on [REDACTED]'s shoulder and neck area, further that [REDACTED] was afraid to tell about this on 3-3-88 because the defendant had threatened to kidnap him and that he would never see his family again if he told, and upon my own personal investigation.

Ketchikan, Alaska, Friday, Mar

Sinclair posts property bond; suspended from Boy Scouts

A judge Thursday arraigned Ketchikan Boy Scout leader Duane Sinclair in a sexual abuse case involving a 10-year-old boy.

Sinclair, 45, was to be released on $50,000 bail using a property bond as collateral. His release was pending notarization of the bond Thursday afternoon.

He did not enter a plea Thursday before Judge George Gucker. A preliminary hearing has been set for 3 p.m. March 29.

Sinclair, who has been active in Ketchikan's Boy Scout program for many years, has been accused of engaging in sexual penetration and sexual contact with the boy, according to a criminal complaint filed by police in Ketchikan Superior Court.

Police arrested and charged him Wednesday with two counts of sexual abuse of a minor.

Three people claim to have witnessed the acts in Sinclair's truck in the 800 block of Water Street on the evening of March 3, court records show.

The 10-year-old was a member of the Boy Scout organization, said District Attorney Mark Ellis.

Sinclair was scoutmaster for Troop No. 14, said John Rooney, council executive for the Southeast Alaska Area Council in Juneau. Rooney came to Ketchikan Thursday in connection with the case and said Sinclair's registration with the Boy Scouts has been suspended.

"We understand that criminal charges have been brought against him and the matter is in the hands of the authorities," Rooney said Thursday. "Under the circumstances, any comment on the case by the council at this time would be inappropriate."

If convicted, Sinclair would face a maximum sentence of 30 years in jail and up to a $75,000 fine for the first-degree sexual abuse charge. The second count, second-degree sexual abuse, carries a maximum sentence of 10 years in jail and up to a $50,000 fine.

This is the second time Sinclair has been charged in a case related to sexual abuse of a minor. He was tried in Ketchikan in 1982 on an abuse charge and found innocent in a jury trial.

Judy Arteaga

Judy Arteaga, librarian at Schoenbar Junior High School, was chosen 1988 School Librarian of the Year by the Alaska Association of School Librarians.

The award came as a surprise to Arteaga at the library association's conference Sunday in Fairbanks.

"I'm very, very grateful to the staff for nominating me," Arteaga said. She emphasized that it's the Schoenbar staff that makes her work possible.

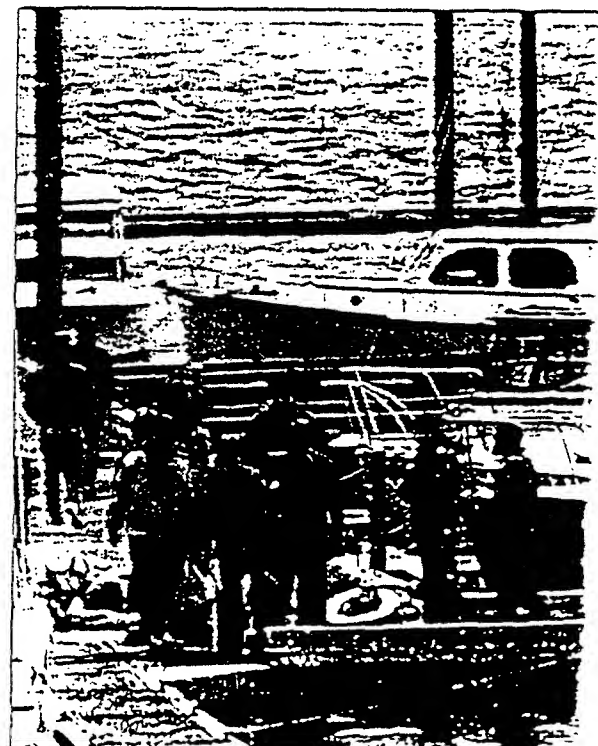

"I work with absolutely the greatest staff," she said.

Arteaga has been Schoenbar's librarian for eight years and librarian at Valley prior to master's scholarship from Oregon in 1980.

Arteaga works at Main School Ketchikan. She has a great interest in pursuing a master's degree in her master's program.

Arteaga works at libraries in the network. She was paid $17,000 for the award.

Sinclair changes plea to no contest

Duane J. Sinclair has changed his plea on six counts of sexual abuse of a minor to no contest. Previously pleading innocence, he entered the new plea on Monday afternoon before Judge Thomas Schulz in Ketchikan Superior Court.

District Attorney Mark Eells told the judge that a plea agreement between the state and Sinclair's attorney Will Woodell calls for a total sentence of 15 years, with 6 years and 7 months suspended. Sinclair therefore would serve 8 years and 5 months for all counts.

The agreement also calls for a five-year probation after Sinclair's release, with a treatment program for sexual offenders required as a condition of probation.

Sinclair told the judge he agreed with the terms of this agreement.

Eells said the state also will seek restitution in excess of $200,000 for the victim and his family.

Sinclair, a former Boy Scout leader, was indicted by a grand jury on four counts of first-degree sexual abuse and two counts of second-degree sexual abuse. Before the change of plea, Sinclair had pleaded innocent to all counts. A jury trial had been expected to be scheduled during Monday's court proceedings.

Schulz accepted the new plea. However, he said he will decide whether to accept the agreement after reviewing a pre-sentencing report. If he hands down a stiffer sentence, Sinclair will have an opportunity to change his plea.

A finding of guilty on such a felony typically requires immediate incarceration without bail. However, Schulz allowed a delay as requested in Eells' report. Sinclair will begin time in jail on Nov. 25, and his sentencing is scheduled Dec. 16.

Eells indicated the change of plea at this time was in consideration for the victim's need to begin therapy or counseling as soon as possible.

The maximum sentence for first-degree sexual abuse of a minor is 30 years in jail and up to a $75,000 fine. For second-degree sexual abuse, the maximum sentence is 10 years and a $50,000 fine.
